Litcrit is proud to mark its Golden Jubilee in 2025, a momentous milestone in its illustrious journey as a beacon of intellectual and cultural discourse. Founded in 1975 by the visionary Professor P.K. Rajan, Litcrit began as a biannual peer-reviewed literary journal and has since become one of the most significant platforms for scholarly dialogue on Indian literature and culture.

Through half a century of dynamic publishing, Litcrit has engaged writers, scholars, and thinkers from across the world, significantly shaping India's literary landscape.

Join us in celebrating this remarkable legacy at the LITTCRIT IOE LITERARY CARNIVAL.
